Emmitsburg Pool Mural Completed

The Frederick Arts Council is delighted to announce the completion of a new mural created for the Emmitsburg Community Pool. The artists, Tim Knepp and Sandra Payne, have created site-specific works throughout the east coast, including a project for the Panda House at the National Zoo.

The project has been a partnership between the Town of Emmitsburg, with Town Planner Zach Gulden, and the Frederick Arts Council made possible by the Ausherman Family Foundation.

Sky Stage Spruced Up

In preparation for days when we'll be gathering again, Sky Stage recently got an amazing refresh. Sean Nicholson and his team powerwashed inside the theatre and out, as well as sanded and re-varnished the bleachers and sculptures!

Thank you, Sean & Team! Sky Stage is now ready for its pending in-person opening day.

Featured Frederick County Artist: Lorena Long

Lorena Long grew up in a small Oklahoma town and studied art at the University of Science and Arts of Oklahoma. She often paints images of people and old, weathered cherished items set in bold and fresh contemporary settings. In a world that is enamored with all things new and beautiful, Lorena's work urges us to find beauty in unlikely places.

Lorena lives in Frederick, MD, with her husband and two sons. You can connect with her on Instagram at @lorena.long and Facebook @lorena.long.artist.

Author: Francis Scott Key

“Then, in that hour of deliverance, my heart spoke. Does not such a country, and such defenders of their country, deserve a song?”

- Francis Scott Key

Francis Scott Key (Aug 1, 1779 - Jan 11, 1843) Born in Frederick county, Maryland, Key, at age 10, entered St. John’s College in Annapolis. He graduated seven years later in 1796. He was an extremely pious young man and considered joining the Episcopal priesthood. He eventually opted for law and became a prominent Washington attorney. Key was also an amateur poet.

It was this prominence that allowed him to organize a prisoner exchange during the War of 1812. During this exchange, Key was confined to a British warship and witnessed the fierce bombardment of Fort McHenry in Baltimore, MD as well as saw the American flag still flying over the fort the next morning. That morning, September 14, 1814, Key, wrote a poem titled “Defense of Fort M’Henry,” on the back of a letter he had in his coat. “Defense of Fort M’Henry,” would later be set to music and on March 3, 1931 become the national anthem of the United States of America.

Key was an influential and effective lay supporter of the Episcopal Church, taking an active role in Christ Church and St. John’s Church in Georgetown and Trinity Church in Washington, D.C. For decades, he served as a lay rector, led services, and visited the sick. Among the scores of poems he wrote, many dealt with religious themes, including several hymns. In 1823, he helped found what became the Virginia Theological Seminary.

Genre: Poetry - The first major literary genre. Poetry is a form of text that follows a meter and rhythm, with each line and syllable. Poetry uses figurative language, such as metaphor, simile, onomatopoeia, hyperbole, and alliteration to create heightened effect. Poetry is subdivided into genres, such as an epic poem, narrative, romantic, dramatic, and lyric.

Poems/hymns written by Key: Defense Of Fort M’Henry, Lord, With Glowing Heart I’d Praise Thee; Before The Lord We Bow;

Fun With Words - Maryland Writers’ Association (MWA) invites you to have fun writing poetry using up to 100 words. Imagine you witnessed a heroic event. Write a poem about it to stir the hearts and minds of your countrymen to a higher purpose. Submit your Fun With Words response to https://marylandwriters.org/Notable_Maryland_Authors by the 20th of the month and receive an MWA Fun With Words submission certificate. Selected responses will be published with next month’s article.

The MWA is a 31-year old state-wide association (501c3) dedicated to encouraging and mentoring Maryland writers, poets, playwrights, and authors. Go to www.MarylandWriters.org for more info.

Harriet Wise is a longtime Frederick resident and photographer. Well known for 31 years of creating the Bach Calendar, she continues to be project- and idea-oriented and to devote part of every day to documenting the world around her.

The April Show at NOMA combines her love of light and shadow with a study of a number of trees seen on her daily walk in Baker Park. The importance of trees to our world and environment is well known. She has created a visual diary observing trees and their seasons. It is whimsical and in no way complete; a truly on-going daily discovery.
