Frederick Arts Council Member Spotlight

Eastside Artists' Gallery

"Globe Thistle" by Doug Moulden

Summary of work: The gallery was opened in April 2019 by several local Artists. We are a cooperative gallery with twelve members currently and there is room for more. It's a diverse group with painting, sculpture, ceramics, mixed media, photography, fabric arts and blacksmithing represented. We love having visitors stop by to enjoy the art and we are happy to steer them to the other galleries in Frederick as well. It's a great way to relax and enjoy time downtown. We hope to resume our acrylic painting classes soon.

Fun Fact: The art in the gallery changes every month, with one of our members being highlighted. Local artist Doug Moulden will be showing in November with his large sculptural paintings of acrylic and mixed media.

Encouraging Maryland writers, poets, playwrights, and authors for 30 years

Author: Eileen McIntire

Genre: Cozy Mystery

"Writing is the perfect career for the lifelong learner because you'd better be." – Eileen McIntire

Eileen Haavik McIntire, author of the 90s Club mystery series, knows one thing for sure. The Nancy Drew she loved reading about as a child would still be piling up clues like tricks in a bridge game at age 90. Nancy Drew inspired the 90s Club series where Nancy Dickenson and her 90s Club cronies at Whisperwood Retirement Village are still on the job, solving mysteries and saving lives—even their own. "I met a slim, attractive woman at a pool party who'd been swimming laps," says Eileen, "and later learned she was 90 years old! That opened my eyes, and I began collecting articles about people in their 90s—and 100s—who are running marathons, winning tennis tournaments and canoe races and publishing their books. The 90's Club series is helping erase the myths and stereotypes that set elderly people apart from the rest of the population."

Eileen also writes historical and suspense novels and has traveled for research. She has ridden a camel in the Moroccan Sahara, fished for piranhas in the Amazon, sailed in a felucca on the Nile, stayed overnight in a mountain hut in Ethiopia, and spent three years on a motorsailer.

She is immediate past president of the Maryland Writers' Association (MWA) and an enthusiastic member of Sisters in Crime. She and her husband, Dr. Roger McIntire, own Summit Crossroads Press, which publishes his books for parents, and the fiction imprint, Amanita Books. They live in Columbia, MD, with their little dog José. Learn more at: <https://www.secretpanels.net>.

Genre: Cozy Mystery is a crime or murder story that takes place in one area, like a small town or resort, and the problem-solving, main-character is a non-professional, like a mother or newspaper reporter or bank teller.

Sample Reading List: Cozy Mystery - The 90s Club & the Hidden Staircase, The 90s Club & the Whispering Statue, The 90s Club & the Secret of the Old Clock, The 90s Club & the Mystery at Lilac Inn; Historical - Shadow of the Rock, In Rembrandt's Shadow; Suspense - The Two-Sided Set-Up.

Fun With Words - Maryland Writers' Association (MWA) invites you to use up to 100 words and have fun writing a cozy mystery like Eileen McIntire. Pick an elderly character, describe their setting, and created the crime they are to solve. Submit your Fun With Words response to https://marylandwriters.org/Notable\_Maryland\_Authors by the 25th of the month and receive an MWA Fun With Words submission certificate. Selected responses will be published with next month's article.

The MWA is a 31-year old state-wide association (501c3) dedicated to encouraging and mentoring Maryland writers, poets, playwrights, and authors. Go to www.MarylandWriters.org for more info.

Opening: First Saturday, November 7th, 12-8pm.
Judith Kornett will be at the gallery Saturdays 12-4pm and Linda Van Hart 4-8pm.

Their Gallery Talks happen each Saturday between 3:30-4:30pm. You may make an appointment for your group of friends or family to view the show and speak with the artists. Call 443-340-0955 to make an appointment.

Judith Kornett and Linda Van Hart have customized and feminized the title of this show to describe the work of two powerful and creative women both of whom use fire in their art. Linda uses an oxyacetylene torch to construct her work and the torch of her passion to spontaneously react to metal. Judith employs a ceramic kiln and molten glass to fire her passion for exploring new media: "Gauntlet of Fire" became their "Gaunlette of Fyre"! Judith and Linda have been working on this show since their own Medieval Times. This is their Renaissance, their coming of age. Kornett's coming of age would not have been possible had her Spirit Guide, The Raven, not been flying next to her side since her very beginning.

Both artists have had to run personal gauntlets in recent years. They have dealt with health issues like cancer and tick born diseases that threatened life and sanity. The creative action to find their voices, to garner will and focus after physical trauma, is its own gauntlet.

Judith and Linda deal with the gauntlet of age. Each artist abandoned processes because of these challenges and cast off concepts that had simply run their course. This collection of jewelry, sculpture, mono prints and fibre art is the work of mature women who have been creating since they were children. Their revelations in "Gaunlette of Fyre" are profoundly personal but also universal.
