Call to Action Protect the National Endowment for the Arts

The Americans for the Arts has developed a set of action steps for those eager to protect the National Endowment for the Arts that include the following:

Connect with Your Elected Officials

- Share your story. Personalized outreach is critical at this moment. Remind them of the irreplaceable value of the arts in your community.
- Use AFTA's Arts Advocacy Alert to send an email to your elected officials.
- Refer to our Arts Advocacy Alert phone script when calling your Members of Congress.
- Or use this template to send a letter via the U.S. Postal Service with a personalized note to your elected officials.

Complete the National Pulse Survey to help AFTA quantify the harm and amplify your voice with lawmakers:

- If you are an arts and culture organization, please complete the survey by EOD Friday, May 16. The survey will only take six minutes to complete.
- If you are able to share this survey with your local network of arts and culture organizations, please forward the survey using AFTA's email template for distribution.

Share your story! Americans for the Arts is collecting powerful, personal stories from across the country to show how the arts transform lives and communities. Submit your story.

Connect with your local and state arts organizations

- See a list of state arts agencies from our friends at NASAA.
- See a list of AFTA state captains to connect with at the state level.
- Use the LAA Wayfinder to find local arts agencies in your community.

If you have lost NEA grant funding, consider submitting an appeal.

- Visit here for more information

Visit AFTA's campaign landing page and scroll down to download their social media toolkit and access ready-to-use graphics, captions, and resources to help protect the NEA and advocate for the arts. Download Here.

Frederick Cultural Asset Survey and Art at City Hall

The City of Frederick is embarking on an arts and culture strategic planning process. To begin, the City is excited to ask residents to help identify the cultural touchstones — formal and informal arts and culture-related organizations, businesses, venues, local landmarks, and more — that mean something to you. Help create a community-developed list of places you visit and resources you use that have cultural value to you.

Art in City Hall Program

Art in City Hall | The City of Frederick, MD - Official Website \(cityoffrederickmd.gov\)

Now accepting proposals for 2025! The City of Frederick's Art in City Hall program is administered by the Office of the Mayor, Department of Arts and Culture. The program presents rotating exhibitions throughout the year, providing opportunities for the public to view artwork from the City's collection as well from local arts and culture organizations, non-profits, schools, libraries, and other community groups in the public areas of City Hall. The Office of the Mayor is committed to highlighting historically underrepresented communities. Exhibitions are open and free for the public and visitors and displayed for a period of one to three months.

ONE COMMUNITY UNITED IN SONG

CARROLL CREEK UNPLUGGED

Register here!

You're invited to sing / perform 12 songs
at the Carroll Creek Amphitheater
in Downtown Frederick

- » The Milk Mountain Band will lead participants through the performance of 12 popular songs
- » All talent levels and acoustic stringed instruments welcome
- » Free to attend / participate - Registration req'd

The Global Z Recording Project is hosting its first annual educational, community-building, musical performance event called Carroll Creek Unplugged. While the event is free (registration required), we are requesting donations from those who are able to assist us with advancing our mission and delivering programs that benefit student musicians and audio engineers in our community.

All who wish to attend the event are welcome! Vocalists and stringed instrument musicians of all ages and talent levels are invited to perform a dozen popular songs at the Carroll Creek Amphitheater as one musical community. We are also raffling off a celebrated Jasmine S35 acoustic guitar!

Scholars posit when individuals with lesser skill are partnered with people who have more knowledge or skill, teaching and learning may occur through social interaction, practice, and support. Thus, through this event, learning occurs in a musical community of practice and the community experiences a shared sense of happiness through the collaborative making of music. Outcomes include a holistic sense of experiential learning, joy, and the building and strengthening of Frederick County's music arts community.

If you would like to be a sponsor, volunteer, or for more information, please see the following link: Carroll Creek Unplugged

The National String Symphonia concludes its 12th season featuring a quartet of works that began as string quartets. Many composers have paid tribute to the composers and works they most admired by arranging their smaller scale works into larger orchestral pieces. Also, many composers chose to expand their own quartets for larger ensembles. (Samuel Barber's "Adagio for Strings" is among the best known examples.) With works over a period of 200 years, from Purcell to Mahler, we will explore some of the best examples of making "more out of four".
