Tap into your CREATIVITY

A WORKSHOP EXPLORING THE CREATIVE PROCESS THRU ARCHETYPES AND COLLAGE!

We're all born CREATIVE BEINGS, but society immediately tries to suppress or limit that creativity. This WORKSHOP flips this script by providing a way for YOU to tap into the fullness of your natural CREATIVITY!

The Nitty Gritty

Judith & Coby will facilitate expressive arts processes that will empower you with tools & new ways of tapping into your own creativity using archetypes. You will be introduced to the meanings & uses of archetypes as artistic tools for deepening your creative process. Additionally, you will be given the skills to create an artistic personal journal supporting your ongoing journey of personal transformation.

Listing of the FAC Art Center

We have listed the building at 5 East Second Street in order to see if there is interest in the property. As the market is very strong, and the FAC is always seeking ways to remain financially stable, it seemed a good time to gauge the market.

Our partners who utilize the building to enrich our community are incredibly important to us. A potential sale of the building opens the door for alternative locations for programming.

Ticket to the Arts

The FAC underwrites the Ticket to the Arts program, an advertising opportunity included in the Frederick News-Post's weekly 72 Hours insert. This marketing opportunity is made available to FAC members at an affordable rate.

John Barth – Metafiction Master

Author: John Simmons Barth

Genre: Metafiction

"Everyone is necessarily the hero of his own life story." – John Barth

John "Jack" Barth, born in Cambridge, Maryland, on May 27, 1930, was famous in the 1960s as a writer who challenged standard conventions of language and plot. It was in the 60s that he wrote his most well known books; The Sot-Weed Factor, a whimsical retelling of Maryland's colonial history; Giles Goat-Boy, a best-selling satirical fantasy in which a university is a microcosm of the Cold War world and the hero is a character who is part goat; and Lost in the Funhouse, an experimental collection of short stories.

Barth graduated from Cambridge High School in 1947 where he wrote for the school newspaper. Being raised on Maryland's Eastern Shore and following the adage to write what you know, many of Barth's works take place there including Sabbatical: A Romance and The Tidewater Tales. He received a B.A. in 1951 and an M.A. in 1952, both from Johns Hopkins University.

The metafiction genre, where he undermines literary conventions, shows clearly in his novel LETTERS where Barth corresponds with characters from his other books. The Tidewater Tales and The Last Voyage of Somebody the Sailor are also metafiction, with writers as protagonists who interact with their own and other stories in elaborate ways.

Artist Opportunity: Artist of the Month Program with

Cowork Frederick

Cowork Frederick's Artist of the Month program supports up-and-coming local Frederick County artists by providing them an opportunity to exhibit and sell their work without the usual commission or fees. The program also brings ever-changing local art to the walls of Cowork Frederick for a more creative, vibrant work environment.

As part of the program, artists participate in a Frederick Artists Night (FAN) event with an exhibit and reception open to the public, along with live music from local singer-songwriters.

Cowork Frederick is particularly interested in artists who may not have had a chance to have an exhibition of their own yet.

Interested? Apply at <https://coworkfrederickfoundation.org/artist-of-the-month-sign-up/>.
