Artist Opportunity: Artist of the Month Program with Cowork Frederick

Cowork Frederick's Artist of the Month program supports up-and-coming local Frederick County artists by providing them an opportunity to exhibit and sell their work without the usual commission or fees. The program also brings ever-changing local art to the walls of Cowork Frederick for a more creative, vibrant work environment.

As part of the program, artists participate in a Frederick Artists Night (FAN) event with an exhibit and reception open to the public, along with live music from local singer-songwriters.

Cowork Frederick is particularly interested in artists who may not have had a chance to have an exhibition of their own yet.

Interested? Apply at <https://coworkfrederickfoundation.org/artist-of-the-month-sign-up/>.

Gene Weingarten – Pulitzer Prize Feature Writer

Author: Gene Weingarten

Genre: Journalist/ Humorist

“Life is essentially a fatal disease of indeterminate duration”– Gene Weingarten

*Weingarten in 2019
from Wikimedia Commons*

(Written by Jon Ketzner) Gene Weingarten is the only two-time winner of the Pulitzer Prize for Feature Writing. He is an American journalist and former syndicated humor columnist for the Washington Post. For 30 years, his column “Below the Beltway” was syndicated nationally and published in the now sadly departed Washington Post Magazine. He is well known for both his serious and humorous oeuvre, and for discovering and mentoring Dave Barry.

Weingarten grew up in southwest Bronx in New York City, the son of an IRS agent and school teacher. He attended NYU, as a pre-med student, switched to psychology, edited the school’s newspaper and dropped out three credits short of a degree.

While in college, Weingarten’s story about gangs in the South Bronx was published as a cover story in New York Magazine. Psychology’s loss was certainly a pick up for the literary arts. After college, Weingarten followed the not uncommon path from stringer to by-lined reporter with such publications as The Detroit Free Press and The National Law Journal.

Ninety Degrees

by Isabel Manalo

Show Runs: November 4 – December 31, 2023

Artist Talk: Sunday, Nov. 5 at 4pm

I Am The Captain

Looking At America

Isabel Manalo is an Artist's Artist. She is a pro who not only maintains her own studio practice and exhibition schedule, but also guides countless other artists with aesthetic and academic counsel. Manalo's paintings possess an uncommon transcendence and mysticism. Yet they are essentially simple and familiar in their subject matter, often with her two young daughters engaged in exploration and wonder amid the natural world. The jewel-like glances of vivid translucent color so musically applied to the picture plane provide a sense of hopeful providence and even joy. Manalo has been exhibiting her work internationally since 1999. Her art works are included in several public and private collections, such as the National Academy of Sciences in Washington, DC, the permanent collections of U.S. Embassies in Bulgaria, Philippines, Kazakhstan and Nepal. Manalo is currently an Adjunct Professor at American University and George Mason University and serves as an Artist Mentor at Lesley University in Boston, MA. She is the Founder and Chief Collaborator of The Studio Visit, an art journal featuring artist interviews with artists in their studios.
