FAC's Sky Stage Presents: Sunniva, with daMOOD, Brecreation
Friday, August 19th @ 7 pm

Sunniva makes indie-alternative-world music-psychedelic-progressive-rock. What the what? Just come to Sky Stage and hear for yourself! Sunniva is comprised of brothers Dannel Knight on vox and guitar and Conner Knight on bass, Patrick Harman on drums, and Tristan Wasely on keys. They've been busy releasing lots of new music--come see it played live!

Frederick-based daMOOD is a talented group of musicians with backgrounds in hip-hop, electronic, rock & bluegrass. They formed as a backup band for Maryland rapper Retro/Ricole and created a unique style of music. After only three months of rehearsals, the group broke barriers by becoming one of the first hip hop bands to perform at Frederick's premier venue The Weinberg Center. Since then; they have played in Shepherdstown, WV, Baltimore, MD, and even opened for hip hop legends The Pharcyde.

Brecreation (pronounced brec-reation) is a rap artist and DJ from the DMV who will perform some works from his latest album Dark but Vibrant.

Call for Artists: Fanciful Picnic Tables at Sandy Spring Museum

Serving as a gathering place for the community, Sandy Spring Museum is installing a series of picnic groves with fanciful picnic tables, most of which will be designed by Maryland artists. The Museum is seeking innovative and artistic proposals that intelligently interpret the acts of gathering, relaxing, and dining in a welcoming setting from artists who would like to be selected to design and build a table. Current plans are to build several tables each year for the next several years.

Anyone living within Maryland can apply, including amateur and professional artists, as individuals or as a group.

Deadline is rolling and applications will be reviewed as received.

For more information and to apply, visit <https://www.sandyspringmuseum.org/wp-content/uploads/2022/07/Call-for-Artists-2022.pdf>.

Encouraging Maryland writers, poets, playwrights, and authors for 32 years

Author: Rachel Carson

Genre: Nature Writer

“ It is not half so important to know as to feel.” – Rachel Carson

Rachel Louise Carson (1907 – 1964) was born in Springdale, PA, graduated from Pennsylvania College for Women (now Chatham University) in 1929, studied at the Woods Hole Marine Biological Laboratory, and received her MA in zoology from Johns Hopkins University in 1932. She began her career as an aquatic biologist in the U.S. Bureau of Fisheries, supplemented her income writing feature articles on natural history for the Baltimore Sun, and became a full-time nature writer in the 1950s. She is most famous for having written Silent Spring, which focused on the danger pesticides presented to the environment.

As a child, Carson was an avid reader and writer. She began writing stories, often involving animals, at age eight and had her first story published in St. Nicholas Magazine at age ten. Her favorite literature included the natural world, particularly the ocean.

As a result, she read Beatrix Potter and Gene Stratton-Porter and, in high school, enjoyed Herman Melville, Joseph Conrad, and Robert Louis Stevenson.

Carson published The Sea Around Us in 1951 which became a bestseller, won her a U.S. National Book Award, demonstrated she was a gifted writer, and gave her financial security. Her next books, The Edge of the Sea, and Under the Sea Wind, were also bestsellers. This Sea Trilogy explored the whole of ocean life from the shores to the depths.

With the success of her Sea Trilogy, Carson turned her attention to conservation and became very interested in problems she believed were caused by synthetic pesticides. She published Silent Spring in 1962 whose impact was to awaken the interest of many Americans in environmental issues. This book inspired a grassroots environmental movement that led to the creation of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and Carson's posthumous award of the Presidential Medal of Freedom.

Carson never married, but throughout her life cared for several family members that had need. Carson died of complications from breast cancer at age 56 and is buried in Silver Spring, MD. Learn more at: <http://www.rachelcarson.org>

Genre: Nature Writer – Nature writing is a form of creative nonfiction in which the natural environment or a narrator's encounter with the natural environment serves as the dominant subject.

Frank Zappa asked the question "What is reality?"

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow wrote "Life is real."

Judith Kornett's reality changed forever on the 30th of March, 2022. She experienced a life changing event that proved you can never predict where life will take you.

On this day Kornett suffered a major orthopedic crisis that required extensive surgery and a long rehabilitation. As a result her lifestyle and personal circumstances have been permanently changed, and are great deal more challenging.

This exhibit of Kornett's work is a celebration of her life as an artist, and the anticipation of wherever new doors opening will take her, as both a person and an artist. Please join her in her celebration by visiting and participating in her exhibit/benefit silent auction at the NOMA Gallery, Frederick.
