FAC After Hours Highlight: Joe Keyes Improv Jazz

Last Wednesday, musician, composer, poet, and conductor, Joe Keyes led his nine-piece Late Bloomer Band through a fresh concoction of funk, R&B, soul, rock, and jazz while drawing on the musical auras of Miles Davis, Gil Scott-Heron, Sun Ra, and early Parliament-Funkadelic. Keyes captivated audiences with his deep, commanding vocals, punctuated by tales of love, family, and addiction from his six decades on earth. The band's vibe and sound – honed over years of theatrical, improvisational shows – journeys from gentle grooves to tight funk and epic crescendos. There was dancing, moving, and grooving to good music and good people!

This event happens every first and third Wednesday of every month. You don't want to miss it!

FAC's Sky Stage Wins 'Best Small Music Venue'

We are excited to share that FAC's Sky Stage recently won Best Small Music Venue from the Interstate Music Awards. Interstate Music, LLC is a music and audio supplier that hosts an online Interstate Music Festival, regular workshops and streaming concerts, as well as an annual award ceremony. Sky Stage was selected as the winner of Best Small Music Venue and featured on the live-streamed awards show. You can still see the program here.

December 2-31, 2022

Opening Reception: Saturday, December 3, 5-8 pm

First Sunday Downtown Art Walk: December 4, 12-4 pm

Artists' Talk: Thursday, December 15, 7-8 pm

A synonym is usually defined as a word having the same meaning as another word in certain contexts. Two people can also be synonymous with each other; this is especially easy when two artists share aesthetic sensibilities and philosophies. Judith Kornett and Julia Schrecengost do indeed share these attributes as artists and friends. Kornett and Schrecengost have worked side by side in the studio for much of the past year swapping ideas, techniques, inspirations, and stories. This exhibition is the culmination of both artists' labor from this period, during which they realized they could only describe this work as a meeting of their artistic minds, an obvious synonymous connection.

Their show, entitled SYNONYMS, will include drawings, prints, and sculptures. It will be on display at NOMA Gallery, 437 N. Market St., Frederick Maryland, from December 2nd-31st. The artists' reception will be Saturday, December 3rd from 5-8 pm. There will be an artists' talk on Thursday, December 15, from 7-8 pm.

Life in the Theatre & Café Society

Art works by Johnny Memphis

Exhibition runs Dec. 3, 2022—Jan. 1, 2023

Gaslight Gallery

Johnny Memphis is an artist who has traveled the world as a musician, photographer, painter, journalist, teamster, and jack of all trades. He began his artistic journey busking on Beale Street in Memphis. He moved on to New Orleans, Cape Cod, and west to Los Angeles to perform in well-known clubs like The Troubadour and Gazzari's. Johnny traveled to Europe and began photographing street scenes that reminded him of his old homestead in the French Quarter of New Orleans. When he had an offer in the late '90s to move to Philadelphia, his first stop was the New Hope art colony in Bucks County, PA. During one of his musical performances, he met his muse – the late Mrs. Lilius Barger, who held weekly Grand Salons of classical music at her home in Carversville, PA. She encouraged his painting and critiqued his work until the end. His folk style of painting street scenes and theatrical venues is reminiscent of his Beale Street roots. His visions are gritty streets and splendid performance halls, extremes that converge where people gather to share and experience life.
