FAC Art Center's New Featured Exhibit

BENEATH THE FOREST
Pamela Moulton

November 2022 – February 2023
FAC Art Center at 5 E 2nd St, Frederick, MD

“Beneath the Forest,” like much of Moulton’s previous work, fosters an ethos of generosity and creative exchange. The energetic sculptures and woven installations cultivate habitats for the imagination that raise awareness about our planet, offering windows of hope. Discarded materials such as fishing nets, hair curlers, lost mittens, heirloom gloves, and bottlecaps are reassembled, reorganized, and reinvented into new forms. The result brings into focus connections between many different types of human communities as well as with the precious natural world.

Artist Pamela Moulton lived in Europe for three decades before relocating to Maine. She received her BFA from UVM and Villa Arson, France (1984) and later her MFA from ESA-Aix, France (2011). She then studied dance pedagogy at IUFM Blois, France which was the catalyst for her collaborative large-scale performative community projects. Her work has been supported by fellowships and grants from the Maine Arts Commission, Kindling Fund, New England Foundation for the Arts and Conseil Regional in Central France, and has been shown in prominent galleries internationally including the National Gallery of Art.
The FAC Art Center is back to full operations!

The FAC Art Center is back to full operation with all three floors open and waiting for your company!

Thank you again to the City of Frederick's Economic Department and Maryland DCHD for the grant that made our sprinkler upgrade possible.

The first floor is open with new merchandise, two large paintings on exhibition courtesy of the Urbana High School Art Programs students, and rotating after-hours events, including Meditative Dance Movement, Restorative Yoga, weekly film screenings, and much more!

The second floor has an incredible immersive interactive exhibition, BENEATH THE FOREST, by Pamela Moulton.

The third floor is home to the Creative Lab with our current interactive fall activity for all ages! The Creative Lab also has easels, drawing tables, cozy chairs, and desks for anyone to relax and enjoy.

We can't wait for you to stop by!

FAC Sky Stage Team Appreciated During FAC's November Board Meeting

The Team at FAC's Sky Stage was awarded an end-of-season acknowledgment gift for their efforts in making Sky Stage the incredibly creative and interactive experience it is!

Join FAC for a New FAC After Hours Series!

The Writers' Block are a local community of writers, committed to connecting, critiquing, and producing writing in a rotational bi-weekly workshop setting. Our hope is that by supporting writing enthusiasts in our area we can hone our craft and share some of the poetry, stories, and any other creative written work we produce as well as work toward publication.

This group is open to all writers of any genre living in the Frederick area who are interested in growing as writers and engaging in meaningful discourse about their craft.

Come out and join us every first and third Saturday of the month at the Frederick Arts Council in Downtown Frederick from 8:30 pm-10:00 pm.

No reservation is required!
The FAC Board and team members had a great time viewing the new exhibit, 'Beneath the Forest' at the FAC Art Center. Pictured above are board and team members with interactive pieces from the exhibit by artist Pamela Moulton.

Maryland Citizens for the Arts' free ArtsLAB is around the corner! Join Maryland Citizens for the Arts on Wednesday, November 16th at 10 am via Zoom to reconnect with the Maryland arts sector. Converse with arts administrators, artists, board members, volunteers, funders, and advocates like yourself.

This ArtsLAB will focus on Community Planning and will be hosted by Deborah Patterson.
Community artist and Baltimore City resident, Deborah Patterson, founded nonprofit ARTblocks in 2009 as a means for communities to create vibrant public spaces that are uniquely their own. Their approach centers on Creative Placemaking—a grassroots, bottom-up, incredibly inspiring, and astoundingly efficient process—that results in a comprehensive list of projects for the community to complete over time. In other words, the opposite of the old-school, top-down approach to working with communities.

For more information and to register, visit https://mdarts.org/artslab/

This year Maryland Citizens for the Arts are building Liberatory Action Plans for Racial Equity. The Academy is a FREE racial equity professional learning program for the Maryland arts sector. Work collectively with your cohort and the facilitators to draft and strengthen a personalized action plan for your work in the arts sector. Read more here.

All dates are Thursday evenings from 5-6 PM:
- November 17, 2022
- December 1, 2022
- January 12, 2023
- January 26, 2023
- February 2, 2023

If you have questions, please email the facilitator team at institute@mdarts.org.
Facilitated in Maryland by the Baltimore Office of Promotion & the Arts, the Scholastic Art & Writing Awards is a prestigious national recognition and scholarship program for middle and high school students. Students can submit their work in 28 categories, ranging from dramatic script, critical essay, journalism, and poetry, to photography, film, fashion, and ceramics.

The Baltimore Office of Promotion & the Arts aims to give recognition to Maryland students with Bronze, Silver, and Gold Keys, and the Gold Key awardees advance to the national competition where they become eligible for scholarships. Notable alumni/awardees of the national program include Stephen King, Sylvia Plath, Robert Reford, and many more.

The Baltimore Office of Promotion & the Arts offers fee waivers for eligible students.

The submission deadline is December 11, 2022.

Artist Opportunity: Artist of the Month Program with Cowork Frederick

Cowork Frederick's Artist of the Month program supports up-and-coming local Frederick County artists by providing them an opportunity to exhibit and sell their work without the usual commission or fees. The program also brings ever-changing local art to the walls of Cowork Frederick for a more creative, vibrant work environment.

As part of the program, artists participate in a Frederick Artists Night (FAN) event with an exhibit and reception open to the public, along with live music from local singer-songwriters.

Cowork Frederick is particularly interested in artists who may not have had a chance to have an exhibition of their own yet.

"Every man must chop his own trail." - Hulbert Footner

Hulbert Footner (April 2, 1879 – November 17, 1944) was a Canadian-born, American writer who was predominantly self-educated and wrote both adventure stories and detective fiction. He loved to live outdoors and canoe, and a trip gone bad made him a Maryland fan. On a trip to paddle the Chesapeake Bay in 1910, he encountered bad weather at Baltimore and ended up taking a steamboat to Solomons, Maryland and was hooked. He married a local lady, Ms. Gladius March, and in 1915 bought Preston on the Patuxent, in Lusby, MD, which he renamed Charles Gift and where he lived until he died in 1944.

He wrote his first novel, Two on the Trail, at Solomons in 1911. It's a fictional adventure based upon the 3,000-mile canoe trip he made alone through Northern Alberta in 1906. Immediately afterwards, he made another canoe trip through the Northwest Territory going from Portrait by Mabel Welch British Columbia Through Alberta and into the Territory of MacKenzie from which he wrote, Jack Chanty.

A friend, Christopher Morley, suggested Footner shift to crime fiction. As Footner recalled, “Morley steered me past an overdose of northwestern stories into crime stories, adventure and romance.” Footner’s Madame Rozika Storey and her plain assistant, set in the flapper era of the 1920’s, became his most successful detective character. His first romantic novel, Country Love, is set on board Adams Floating Theater, which sailed the Chesapeake Bay bringing plays and vaudeville acts to the isolated villages including Solomons, Maryland during the years after World War I. In 1930, Footner introduced a new detective, Amos Lee Mappin, whose crimes tend to occur in New York’s cafe society.

He wrote, Maryland Main and the Eastern Shore, (illustrated by Louis Ruyl), a chapter-by-chapter study of Maryland through his eyes and impressions as an outsider, as he was dying. Critics consider it an accurate capture of the essence of Maryland. Footner is buried at Middleham Chapel, Lusby, MD.

Kristie’s World - Art Spoken Here
Paintings by Gillian Grozier
Exhibition Runs: Nov 5 – 27 2022
Opening Reception: Saturday Nov 5, 1-6pm
Gaslight Gallery

Gillian Grozier is a painter and writer who hails from England. She came to America as a young adult and trained at the Students League in New York City. She later worked with Anthony Toney, and she was a member of the Westchester Art Society and the Mamaroneck Arts Guild. Exhibiting works in oils, acrylics, and mixed media, she won the Audubon Artists Michael M. Engels, Sr. Award, and taught painting in Chappaqua, NY. She draws from a considerable lifetime of visual and literary experience. Gillian has been a regular exhibitor in New York and Connecticut galleries and museums. She moved to Frederick, MD in 2016, responding to the vibrancy of the art community here. Kristie’s World provides a glimpse of our familiar town from the gaze of an empathetic outsider.
