Art Center Creative Lab Activity: Sky Stage Doodle

Want to draw a graphic of Sky Stage for an opportunity to create our next Sky Stage sticker?

Come to the FAC Art Center and find our creative lab, which is temporarily located on the first floor, where you can use our provided materials - or bring your own - and submit your graphic with your name and email!

FAC Art Center Hours Update

The FAC Art Center is undergoing exciting updates!

Because of this, the first floor will be open this weekend, October 1st and 2nd, but will be closed next week, October 3rd through 7th. The second and third floors remain closed during this time.

Community Arts Development (CAD) Grants Update

The FAC CAD grant committee is currently reviewing CAD applications and is meeting in late September for a full committee review.

CAD grants are awarded by a committee comprised of both arts professionals and culturally interested community members.

Big shout out to our grants committee!

The FAC Art Center is excited to be hosting a miniature performance from the National String Symphonia as part of their series "String in the Wild" on October 1st, 2022 at 5:00 PM.

This is a free event!

More information about the National String Symphonia can be found here.

FAC Field Trip to Rockville Artists & Maker Space

Friday, October 7, 2022, 10:30 AM – 5:00 PM

FAC is hosting a field trip to Rockville to explore exemplary approaches to artist studio space.

During this field trip, we will be given a tour of Artists & Makers Studios Rockville hosted by Executive Director Judith Olivia HeartSong, a stop at Pike & Rose to view public art (along with a lunch break), and a tour of VisArt by Gallery Director Frank McCauley.

Featured Event: Sky Stage Presents - Gina Furtado + Katie Powderly with special guest Jacob Panic
Saturday, October 1st @ 7 pm

Gina and Katie will be performing as a duo. Jacob Panic opens.

About Gina: Known for her creative songwriting and banjo playing, Gina was a nominee for 4 years straight for the International Bluegrass Music Association's "Banjo Player of the Year." She has toured across Europe and the U.S. and has multiple recordings that have charted on the Bluegrass Today charts, and two that hit #1. www.ginafurtadobanjo.com

About Katie: Katie is a songwriter and bluegrass bass player who has performed on NPR affiliates and PBS, and toured throughout the U.S. Her singing and harmonies have been likened to Gillian Welch (Isthmus, Madison, WI) and Gram Parsons (City Paper, Rochester, NY.) Katie performs her songs as an acoustic solo artist or with her electric band, The Unconditional Lovers. She recently joined hard-driving PA bluegrass band, Dead Horse Revival, on the bluegrass bass. www.katiepowderly.com

About Jacob: Jacob Panic is a banjo artist and singer-songwriter from Maryland. He is a proud member of the Gold Tone Artist Roster, and plays an ML-1 baritone banjo. Jacob's new album, "Songs for Healing", aims to capture the beautiful warm sound of the baritone banjo, and songs that can put you in touch with nature and yourself. www.jacobpanic.com

Maryland Humanities One Maryland One Book Author Tour, featuring Naima Coster

Frederick Community College on October 3, 2022

What's Mine and Yours is a multigenerational saga featuring two North Carolina families. They collide in ways that neither is prepared for when Black students from the east side of the county are integrated into the predominantly white schools on the west side. Readers will follow these families over decades as they break apart and come back together.

All tour events are free. No registration is required. Seating is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

NOTABLE AUTHOR: JERDINE NOLEN

“Be very generous with reading and with books.” – Jerdine Nolen

Jerdine Nolen author of Eliza’s Freedom Road, an ALA/YALSA Best Fiction Nominee for Young Adults, was born in Crystal Springs, Mississippi, raised in Chicago, Illinois, and now lives in Ellicott City, Maryland. She was part of a large family (5 sisters, 2 brothers) and can’t ever remember being bored. She had a wild imagination and was always making up games, or playing with her dolls or toy lamb, or collecting words. She cannot remember a time in her life when she was not writing. Her mother said, “You are a lot like John Henry, only born with a pencil in your hand.”

Nolen’s education included a B.A. in special education from Northeastern Illinois University and an M.Ed. in interdisciplinary arts education from Loyola University in Chicago. She was an educator for a number of years as a classroom teacher, curriculum writer, staff developer, family involvement specialist, and administrator. She now loves visiting and read to children in school.

Jerdine Nolen has written several award-winning picture books and young adult novels. All center on history and focus on family and love. Thunder Rose is a Coretta Scott King Illustrator Honor Book, Hewitt Anderson’s Great Big Life is a Bank Street Best Book of the Year, and Calico Girl is a Kirkus Reviews Best Book of the Year.

Nolen fell in love with Maryland “a beautiful state that is also rich in the history of our country” and now lives in Ellicott City, Maryland. For more information visit www.jerdinenolen.com.

DISTRICT Arts

Contemporary Art in the Historic District

"Food for Thought"

A Themed Exhibition with Works by 25 Artists

DISTRICT Arts, a contemporary art gallery located in the historic district of downtown Frederick, MD, is pleased to present "FOOD FOR THOUGHT."

This metaphorical expression connotes something that should be pondered or carefully considered. The art of René Magritte immediately comes to mind but so too does A. Wyeth's "Christina's World."

We invited working artists in The United States to submit their original 2D or 3D works that challenge the viewer and gives them something to think about. The works of 25 artists were selected by the juror for exhibition.

On view October 5 - October 30, 2022

"Food for Thought" was independently juried by Dana Hargrove. Originally from Edinburgh, Scotland but now living in Florida, Dana describes herself as a "conceptually based artist, moving freely between mediums, using painting as a familiar touchstone, yet often incorporating sculpture, video, and photography."

Hargrove received a BFA degree with honors in painting from Duncan of Jordanstone College of Art at Dundee University in Dundee, Scotland. Subsequently, she earned an MFA at Southern Illinois University.

Dana Hargrove is a Full Professor of Studio Art at Rollins College in Winter Park, FL. She is represented by Bridgette Mayer Gallery in Philadelphia, PA and by Dean Day Gallery in Houston, TX. She has won numerous awards and has exhibited in both featured and group artist shows throughout the country.

Homer Yost. Drawings and Drypoints

"There is a magic to the printmaking process, but it all starts with the drawing. If you don't have a good drawing you won't make a good print" ~Homer Yost

On view October 1 - 30th at Gallery 322

About The Event: Homer Yost has been sculpting and drawing for forty-five years. Nine months ago, he started making drypoint.

"I like the procedure of drawing on the plate, inking and wiping, and running the plate through the press... There is a magic to the printmaking process, but it all starts with the drawing. If you don't have a good drawing you won't make a good print."

September 30 – October 30, 2022

Opening Reception: Saturday Oct 1 • 5-9 pm

Artists' Talk: Thursday, Oct 20 • 7-8 pm

“Between Ideas and Reality” is illustrative of the process of art making. I began the spring with set ideas of what I wanted to accomplish and after two months the reality of my failed efforts made me reconsider the direction I was going. The works in the show now reflect taking shelter in the known.
