

Statement for the Arts

Libby Taylor, City Council At Large (D)

The arts are essential to what makes Frederick vibrant, welcoming, and connected. My family regularly attends children's arts programs, and I've seen how public art creates third spaces—bringing people together and building community pride. As a City Councilmember, I will support public art, creative programming, and strong partnerships with groups like the Frederick Arts Council. The arts aren't extra—they're how we grow together.
